Lend A Hand is a project I am participating in to help the victims in CT, NY and NJ who are suffering from Hurricane Sandy and do not have the essentials to keep warm this winter. I am doing a blanket and clothing drive through the months of November and December in an attempt to help those in need during the holidays. Please go through your closets and get rid of those jackets and blankets which are taking up needed space! Let's help those affected by this storm and lend a helping hand!

- Blankets
- Jackets
